THE ENIGMA OF THE TALENTS

The three readings from today's mass are a hymn to work, to activity, to knowing how to take advantage of our time, because we never know when our time will run out. The parable Christ tells us sets the tone for today's biblical message: we must use well the gifts we have received, not just by spending all our talents, but by multiplying their fruits.

Sisters and Brothers:

1. Many Christians think faith is about hiding and conserving the gifts we have received, just like the servant Condemned by Jesus in the parable. These people know that God saves them, and they know that he can come when least they expect it, but they forget that when he comes he will inquire about the quality of our love and our light; he will inquire definitively about our brothers and sisters: their faith, hope, and happiness are a fruit of what I myself have first received.

There is a Castilian saying that goes: "Praying to God, but still swinging the hammer." (A Dios rogando y con el mazo dando.) Faith is one of the talents that we must invest. We are each beneficiaries of something more valuable than the huge quantities of money mentioned in the parable. To bury it in mere fulfillment of the law, in routine, or to hide it only within the strictest intimacy would make us worthy of the Lord's condemnation. Rather, we must live our faith, nourish it, give testimony to it, and share it.

2. We do not earn our talents; we receive them freely. The three servants in the parable receive the same gift but in different quantities. In the Christian life we do not begin from nothing, we do not start from zero. Our existence is built by a material that has been freely given us and placed at our disposal. All is grace. Our task is no more than a response to a gift that we have found in our hands. The "master" has put something in our hands for us to work with, and this something becomes "ours".

3. Today's question is twofold and very clear: Do we really make all the possibilities we have bear fruit? And is this fruit at the service of the Kingdom of God? It is not enough to just bury the talents we've been given, or, what is worse, to do business with them for our own profit. We must multiply them for the master who has entrusted them to us. And behind this twofold question there is one basic conviction: to work and do business for this Master is the greatest and most worthwhile thing we can do in our lives.

In light of today's gospel let us examine our own consciences. First regarding our laziness and indifference. How are we using our talents of knowledge, time, and money? Do I use my talents to serve the poor? We must take our lives seriously! May we one day hear said about us the words that Paul said to the Christians of Thessalonica in today's second reading: "You are all children of the light and children of the day. We are not of the night or of darkness."

Palabras del Párroco

Domingo, 15 de noviembre de 2026 – Solemnidad de Todos los Santos - Ciclo A
Lecturas: Proverbios 31, 10-13. 19-20. 30-31, Salmo 127 "Dichoso el que teme al Señor", 1 Tesalonicenses 5, 1-6, Mateo 25, 14-0

EL ENIGMA DE LOS TALENTOS

Las tres lecturas de hoy son un canto al trabajo, a la actividad, a saber aprovechar el tiempo, porque nunca sabemos cuándo se nos acaba. La parábola descrita por Jesús da el tono al mensaje bíblico de hoy: hay que trabajar los dones recibidos; no sólo no malgastarlos sino multiplicar sus frutos.

Hermanas y hermanos:

1. Muchos cristianos entienden la fe como un esconder y conservar los dones recibidos, como hace el criado condenado por Jesús en la parábola; saben que Dios los salva, saben también que puede venir por sorpresa, pero olvidan que cuando venga nos va a preguntar por la calidad de nuestro amor y de nuestra luz; que nos va a preguntar, en definitiva, por nuestros hermanos: la fe de mi hermano, su esperanza y su felicidad son fruto de lo que yo he recibido.

Como dice el sabio refrán castellano: "A Dios rogando y con el mazo dando". La fe es uno de los talentos que debemos hacer rendir. Somos depositarios de algo que tiene un valor más fabuloso que las enormes cantidades de dinero citadas en la parábola. Enterrarla en el mero cumplimiento, en la rutina o en la estricta intimidad es hacerse merecedores de la condena del Señor. Es preciso vivirla, alimentarla, testimoniarla y contagiarla.

2. El talento no se gana, se recibe gratuitamente. Los tres empleados de la parábola reciben el mismo regalo pero en diferente cantidad. En la vida cristiana el punto de partida no está representado por la nada. No se parte de cero. La existencia se construye con un material que se ha puesto a su disposición y que se ha dado gratuitamente. Todo es gracia, y la tarea, por nuestra parte, no es más que la respuesta a un don que nos hemos encontrado entre las manos. El "Amo", pues, nos entrega algo para que trabajemos y este algo se hace "nuestro".

3. La pregunta de hoy es doble y bien clara: ¿Hacemos fructificar realmente todas las posibilidades que tenemos? Y este fruto ¿está al servicio del Reino de Dios? No basta con enterrar los talentos recibidos ni mucho menos negociar con ellos para provecho propio: hay que negociar para el dueño que nos los ha confiado. Y detrás de esta doble pregunta tiene que haber un convencimiento básico: el convencimiento de que trabajar y negociar para este dueño es lo más grande y lo más valioso que es posible hacer en esta vida.

A la luz del Evangelio hagamos un examen de conciencia. Primero sobre la pereza y la desidia. ¿Cómo utilizamos nuestros talentos de conocimientos, de tiempo y de dinero? ¿Uso mis talentos para servir a los pobres? ¡La vida hay que planteársela con seriedad! Ojalá se nos puedan decir también a nosotros las palabras pacificadoras que Pablo decía a los cristianos de Tesalónica en la segunda lectura de hoy. "Todos vosotros sois hijos de la luz e hijos del día. Nosotros no estamos en la noche ni en las tinieblas".
